

4th edition International Algae Congress

he International Algae Congress LinkedIn group is a networking group for international Algae Industry members. The group offers a platform to exchange knowledge, discuss ideas and issues. Becoming a member of the Algae Congress group enables you to:

Stay informed about the latest news and receive notifications via e-mail • Start or join discussions about the topics of your interest • Find answers to your questions about sector related subjects • Share your knowledge • Meet and contact new colleagues from the sector with the same interests • Expand your network • Meet each other at the Algae Congress in the Netherlands • Stay in touch with the group members /delegates after the International Algae Congress