Started 7 years ago, the collaboration between the National Office for Water and Electricity (ONEE) in Morocco and the National Water Training Center (NWTC) of the International Office for Water (IOWater) in France continued in 2013. The educational engineering project continued in 2013 for the design and implementation of educational units on "Sanitation systems" built at the Water and Sanitation Institute (WSI) of ONEE in Rabat. Moreover, IOWater, in partnership with the Moroccan ADI consulting firm, started in 2013 a project to develop reference frames for the design and sizing of liquid waste treatment systems.
