The main subject is the 7th World Water Forum. It will take place in Daegu-Gyeongju from 13 to 17 April 2015 at the invitation of the South Korean Government and the World Water Council.

The International Network of Basin Organizations, which already actively participated in the six previous Forums, calls its Members and Observers to get mobilized and go to Daegu to present their solutions, to exchange and discuss in order to develop and improve basin management and transboundary cooperation in the world.
